LB 585

you have a bus and you're driving to the football game, and right now you have to have proof of actual consumption.

SENATOR BROMM: Right.

SENATOR HILGERT: And what you're doing is enhancing that to say that you can't even have an open container. Don't you think that that's going to be easier to enforce, because any evidence of an open container on the bus then is a cause of action?

SENATOR BROMM: Yeah. There would be a greater likelihood of enforcement.

SENATOR HILGERT: So there is a greater likelihood of enforcement. And...thank you, Senator Bromm. So I disagree with what we're doing here as far as saying that, well, nothing's going to be changed; nothing's going to be done differently, frankly. I think people who are watching us do live in the real world. People who are members of fraternal and veterans organizations, people who do go on bus tours, they realize that nuance. And it's unfortunate that some members, evidently, don't understand the nuance of what we're doing here. But I guess that might become evident this summer and this fall when we go back to our districts and they come up and the folks that we represent say, you mean we can't...we can't do this anymore? Well, no, we can't. I think that there is a nuance here that's very significant, and frankly, I can't laugh that off. I frankly don't even see anything really too amusing about that. But we'll hear about it. And we're just...we're doing away with something that's being done. And am I going to apologize for people who are technically breaking some law or a law? No one should break the law. I'm not advocating that. But to say that what the Legislature does has no relevance in the out...outside of this chamber, and that everything's going to be done as it's always been done, I think is disingenuous to reality. And that's what I was trying to suggest; the reality of the situation of someone who wants to do the responsible thing and does not want to go behind the wheel of an automobile but who does want to have that source of enjoyment when they go to a football game. Thank you.

SPEAKER KRISTENSEN: Further debate on the amendment? Senator
